| Outcomes / Decisions | The main result was that VR headset is suitable, but not recommended for the whole target group. It was discovered that 360-degree videos can be used as preparation material and for individuals with severe autism 360-degree videos should be shown in other ways |

| Objectives             | The aim was to create a range of user personas and a checklist to assess accessibility in urban environments.                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Outcomes / Decisions   | The data analyzed gave a good understanding that the Tikkurila central area does comply with laws and regulations set by the European Union and Finland. Furthermore, the area does take into consideration people with different backgrounds and their need for accessibility. |

| Objectives             | The goal of my development work was to create general and user-friendly Evacuation guidelines for seniors travelling to urban destinations.                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Outcomes / Decisions   | Thesis work reveal the most important themes for promoting the successful evacuation of seniors. The themes are increasing self-preparedness, increasing awareness en route and knowledge of how to act in danger. The Evacuation Guidelines were built around these themes.                                                                                      |

| Objectives           | The aim was to create guidelines for safe travelling for families with children or to people who travel with children                                                                                                        |
| Outcomes / Decisions | The results revealed that families are mostly concerned about their children's health when travelling and that above all travelling with children is rewarding and a way of bonding with one's child if one is well prepared |

| Objectives             | The aim was to research the factors affecting on women's travel safety and develop safety guidelines for solo female travellers                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Outcomes / Decisions   | The study revealed five themes which can be seen improving women's travel safety. As the outcome of the development work, three solo female traveller User personas were created and for each User persona, six personalized safety guidelines were developed.                                                                                                                                                                                       |

| Objectives             | To investigate and propose solutions to improve accessibility and safety in urban open spaces within the European Union, based on the perception and experience of users, as well as to approach an understanding of the future visions they express regarding these spaces to make them more inclusive and accessible. Through a qualitative approach based on surveys of users from the five European countries members of the SAFE Project (Germany, Slovenia, Spain, Finland and Poland), perceptions of accessibility, perceived safety, mobility, and future visions of these spaces were identified.           |
| Outcomes / Decisions   | -The results reveal barriers in terms of accessibility, such as the lack of adapted infrastructure, and issues of perceived safety related to crime and traffic, especially for the elderly and people with disabilities. Difficulties in mobility are also detected, particularly concerning public transport, as well as concerns about gentrification and the impact of tourism, along with users' desire for greener cities in the future. -The Master's thesis received a grade of 8.8.                                                                                                            |

| Outcomes / Decisions   | How does awareness of safety, accessibility, diversity and inclusion shape spatial identity in the architecture of the future? This roundtable explores the intersection of these critical considerations and examines how they influence the design and experience of built environments and contribute to the sense and quality of experiencing a place. We will discuss how to create spaces that are not only functional and sustainable but also foster a sense of belonging and well-being for all users, thereby shaping a more inclusive spatial identity. |

| Objectives             | As part of European Mobility Week, organized by the Department of Mobility, Citizen Protection, Urban Agenda, Sustainability, and Next Generation Projects of the City Council of Granada, an exhibition was held at the city council to showcase the results of the intensive week that took place in Granada in October 2024. The exhibition included models and posters showing how to make Granada a more accessible city for everyone, with friendlier, safer, and more sustainable spaces, designed from an inclusive mobility perspective                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Outcomes / Decisions   | Dozens of attendees visited the exhibition during the week. Thanks to the exhibition, these attendees learned how the SAFE project works and became aware of how to make their city more accessible, safe, and sustainable.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |

| Objectives             | To strengthen community bonds and foster connections among residents through a collaborative walking event in the Gaarden district.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Outcomes / Decisions   | Participants gained a deeper appreciation for the unique characteristics of Gaarden and engaged in meaningful conversations with their neighbors. So they could see urban planning in Gaarden and the special needs for women with a migrant background.                                                                                                                                                                      |
